

BUSINESS PLAN FOR U. S. FACES BANKERS' MEET

Constructive Formula Chart Is
Problem of National Gathering.

HOOVER SPEAKER

Criticism of Tariff To Be Expressed.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29.—A challenge to chart a constructive business formula for the nation faced some 6,000 bankers today as the fiftieth annual convention of the American Bankers' Association opened here.

The course of the four-day convention, which is expected to be one of the most important sessions ever held by the organization of financial leaders, was outlined by John G. Lonsdale, president of the association and head of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Company of St. Louis.

"In the sessions of the association departments which open today and in the general sessions which begin tomorrow, it will be our endeavor to present as clearly as possible a picture of the problems with which we are faced, and, as far as practicable, to point out ways by which these problems may be solved," Lonsdale said. "The time was never more opportune than now for banking leaders to interpret the trend of the times and to chart the safest course which business and banking may pursue."

THREE SUBJECTS

For the most part, it appeared today, interest in the convention centers upon three important subjects: branch banking, bank taxes, and bank earnings. It was expected that the association at this convention may reverse its long-maintained stand in opposition to the extension of national branch banking.

More than 4,000 banker-delegates were already registered for the convention this morning, and more large delegations were arriving almost hourly. It was predicted that by Thursday—the day President Herbert Hoover is scheduled to address the association—nearly 7,000 of the nation's bankers will be on hand.

Departmental conferences featured today's business activities of the convention. Of outstanding interest was the address of John W. Barton, vice president of the Metropolitan National Bank, Minneapolis, and president of the National existing tariff and immigration policies will be made by Barton. The attack against the tariff law will be grounded on the contention that it hampers free trading of the United States in other countries.

Among the association's departmental and committee meetings scheduled for this morning were those of the membership committee, insurance committee, public relations committee, national bank division, savings bank division, state bank division, tax conference, commerce and marine commission, trust company division, economic policy commission, and state secretaries section.

SUMMER GRIPPE FATAL TO BABE

Evelyn Hean, four-months-old daughter of James and Rita Goss Stonerock, Scioto-twp., died Sunday at 3 p. m. of summer grippe. Besides the parents the child is survived by two brothers, Floyd and James, and three sisters, Frances, Luella and Mildred.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the South Bloomfield M. E. church with burial in South Bloomfield cemetery.

R. J. BULKLEY TO VISIT CITY

Robert J. Bulkley, Cleveland, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, will visit Circleville on Oct. 30. He will make 75 speeches during his tour of the state.

HOOVER AUTHOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—President Hoover appeared today in the role of author and an authority on fish life with the publication of his book, "A Remedy for Disappearing Game Fishes." The volume contains only 41 pages and the edition is limited to 900 copies.

The price is three or four times the cost of the usual book and one could buy a very good trout rod for the same money.

S. V. T. Gives Way To Bus Tuesday Eve

The last Scioto Valley Traction car to run through Circleville will be at 12:34 a. m. Wednesday enroute to Chillicothe. It is expected that the crew of this last car south through the city on regular schedule will have as its crew Mac McCormick, Chillicothe, motorman, and George Gallagher, Columbus, conductor, both veterans in traction line service.

The car will continue to Chillicothe. It was just 25 years ago Tuesday that the Scioto Valley Traction Co., moved into its waiting room and ticket office at the present location on N. Court-st.

Just what will be done with the employees of the traction company is not known. Some will be given jobs driving busses; others will retire and still others will be forced to turn to other means of livelihood.

The abandonment of the road will end the service of William "Pop" Hyson, Chillicothe, motorman, the oldest man in point of service with the company. "Pop" was employed by the traction company on Oct. 24, 1905 and has been behind the throttle since that time. He will pilot his car out of Chillicothe for the last time on Sept. 30.

Hyson will retire at the end of his run. He is 70 years old. John H. Drum, N. Court-st., ticket-agent here will become manager of the Shell Oil Co. station in S. Court-st., beginning his duties Wednesday morning.

YOUTH HOPS FOR RECORD

16-Year-Old Boy Heading
Toward Columbus After Continental Mark.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 29.—Robert Buck, 16, hopped off from here, Friday, at 7:10 in an attempt to break the junior transcontinental record, from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

Buck took off an hour ahead of his scheduled time. A steady wind was blowing from the west at the time of the take-off.

His plane carried 100 gallons of gas which will enable Buck to reach Columbus, the first stop, in about six hours.

From Columbus he will go to St. Louis, Mo., from there to Wichita, Kansas, then to Albuquerque, N. M., and then finish at Los Angeles where he will rest a day before setting out to break the west to east record.

Buck forgot his gloves, but a mail truck driver watching the take-off gave him his.

ABANDON HOPE FOR LOST SHIP

Captain and Bride of Two Weeks Lost With Four
Members of Crew.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—All hope of finding the fruit packet North Shore, which has been missing with all on board since the recent storm swept Lake Michigan, was abandoned today after a search by boat and airplane failed to locate the ship.

That the freighter sank 30 miles off Racine, Wis., was the opinion of Capt. W. E. Preston of the Grand Haven, Mich., coast guard station at the conclusion of a two day search. Captain Preston reported sighting wreckage yesterday which he identified as part of the North Shore. No bodies were recovered.

Six persons were aboard the fruit packet when it set out from the Michigan shore with a load of grapes. Among the six believed lost are Capt. Erwin Anderson and his bride of two weeks and a crew of four. The voyage was a honeymoon trip for Anderson and his wife.

W. J. Laurie of Milwaukee, owner of the boat, directed the search for six hours yesterday from an airplane. Three other airplanes joined in the hunt while eight coast guard cutters cruised about.

FIND BODY OF MISSING FLYER

Parker Found Dead, Bend Efforts On Search For Lost
Columbus Aviator.

CONNEAUT, O., Sept. 29.—Spurred by the discovery of the body of Willard Parker, pilot of the ill-fated cabin monoplane which crashed into Lake Erie near here after a scant 80-mile trip from Cleveland airport early Wednesday morning, searchers redoubled their efforts today in the hunt for the body of William McNulty, Columbus business man, who was a passenger in the craft.

After a two-day search of the shore and Lake near here, the body of the dead pilot was discovered yesterday by Henry Jarvie, a farmer, about one and a half miles east of Conneaut Harbor. The body was coatless, indicating that Parker had removed his coat in an effort to swim. A watch found on the body had stopped at 2:18. Parker and McNulty had left Cleveland at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday. The body was identified by Dick Sawtelle, Parker's former pupil, and Dan Foltz, a friend of the flyer.

Search for the bodies of the flyers was centered in this vicinity following the discovery of the wreckage of the monoplane early Saturday. The battered remains of the plane had been washed ashore by a lake gale. A leather aviator's coat, apparently Parker's, was found in the wreckage.

TEACHER KILLED

BRIDGEPORT, O., Sept. 29.—Struck by a speeding auto as she was about to enter her car in front of her home on the national highway, Gladys M. Straught, 25, Pen-se-twp. school music instructor, is dead here today. The driver of the death car is being held for investigation.

OHIO HISTORY DAY WILL BE NEXT SUNDAY

Fine Program Will Be Given
At Logan Elm Park Off
Scioto Trail.

ROAD EXCELLENT

Randolph Walton, Columbus,
Is Speaker.

The annual meeting of the Ohio History Day Association will be held at Logan Elm Park, six miles southeast of the city next Sunday. Many persons make an all-day affair of the meeting, bring their lunches and get a full day of enjoyment.

With the Scioto Trail open from Columbus and from Chillicothe to the park it is expected that a large crowd will attend the meeting. The Scioto Trail south of the city has been closed during the entire summer for paving and has only recently been opened to travel.

The highway is in splendid condition with the exception of the grade at the Norfolk & Western railroad tracks in S. Court-st., which hasn't been repaired.

The park is on the list of accredited camps which assures plenty of good drinking water.

A fine program has been prepared for the entertainment.

J. F. Carlisle, vice president of the Ohio History Day Association, will preside at the meeting. The program will open with invocation followed by an address of welcome by Mayor B. T. Hedges. A presentation of a flag donated to the association by Phil Weber, Canal Winchester, and presented by George F. Barreis will then be made.

This will be followed by a salute to the flag and "The Star Spangled Banner" by the band and the audience. Remarks will be made by Harlow Lundley of the Ohio State Archeological and Historical Society.

The address of the day will be presented by Randolph Walton of Columbus. Music will be furnished by the Adelphi band.

RADER, GEIB TO PLAY IN FINAL

Pickaway Country Club Golf
Tournament To Be Settled
Next Sunday.

Glen Geib, E. Main-st., and Earl Rader, Fox Postoffice, will meet in the finals of the Pickaway Country Club championship tournament Sunday following Geib's victory over Dr. O. M. House, Williamsport, Sunday. The margin of victory in the Sunday match was six up and five to go.

Rader entered the finals in the upper bracket of the pairing by defeating Paul E. Adkins in the semifinals.

The championship match will be over 36 holes, the first nine starting at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning. Eighteen holes will be played in the morning and 18 in the afternoon.

JOHNNY MADER RETAINS CADDY CHAMPIONSHIP

1929 Champ Cards Splendid
45-39 Saturday To Cop
Annual Event.

CADDIES TREATED

Merchants Thanked For Donating Prizes.

Johnny Mader, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mader, Park-pl., retained his title of Pickaway Country Club caddy championship Saturday when he put excellent scores of 45-39 together for a total of 84 to cop the first prize, a Vulcan spoon donated by C. G. Shulze. Mader played fine golf, in fact good enough that there are few senior members of the club who can compare with him. His wood shots carried for a distance of 200 yards straight toward the green and his approaches were such that on many greens he had only one putt. His best hole was par 5, No. 5 which he birdied with a four on the final nine.

Johnny's golf has shown quite an improvement over 1929 when he won the caddy tournament with a 49 for nine holes.

Saturday was a royal day in the events of Pickaway Country Club for the fast-waning season with all the caddies of the club, more than 30 strong, were entertained as guests. They were given an excellent dinner at the club house through the donations of the members and were treated to all the ice cream they could eat, given by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Enderlin and all the pop they could drink furnished by Ralph Barger, club steward.

Other prizes given to the caddies for their various scores were as follows:

Second prize, Bob Leist, 92, a Burke brassie donated by C. T. Gilmore;

Third prize, Oakley Warner, 93, Spaulding brassie donated by Frank Casey, pro;

Fourth prize, William Imbler, 97, mashie club donated by Walter Kinder.

Most par holes, Charles Glitt, three, white polo shirt donated by Frank Casey;

Highest score, Joe Jenkins, 133, sweater, donated by A. L. Wilder.

Three blind holes, low score, Elden Hill, 5, 6 and 6 on 4, 7 and 9, cap, donated by Harley B. Colwell;

Three blind holes, high score, won by Melvin Dresbach, 10, 10, 7 on 4, 7 and 9, red polo shirt donated by Caddy Miller Hat Shop;

Highest score on any one hole, No. 7, won by Bob Frieze, 13 strokes. A necktie donated by German Joseph Clothing Co.;

The highest score on No. 5 hole, 11 strokes, won by John Jenkins, two golf balls donated by George H. Fickard;

The caddies and the members of the golf committee wish to thank the merchants and members of the club who so kindly donated prizes to the boys.

These caddies are the golfers of tomorrow and who knows but what Pickaway Country Club will produce a Bobby Jones or Walter Hagen some day.

HEAD OF DEAF SCHOOL KILLED

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Crushed beneath an overturned automobile, Dr. John W. Jones, 70, superintendent of the Ohio state school for the deaf, at Columbus, was killed Sunday near Ellis, Kansas, according to a message which was received here today.

Warren Bigler, 77, of Wabash, Indiana, director of the Indiana school for the deaf, was killed in the same accident. Mrs. Jones and another passenger in the car were uninjured. A fifth person suffered a fractured leg.

The Jones machine turned over three times when it hit loose gravel after Dr. Jones lost control at the wheel.

POLO PLAYER HEART VICTIM

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Stricken while participating in a polo game here, Fred A. Kennedy is dead today.

He was a member of the River Ridge Polo club and was competing with the Somerset aggregation. The game had been in progress three minutes when Kennedy was seen to slump in his saddle. He held on to the neck of his mount for about half a minute and then tumbled to the ground. He was dead when physicians, who were in the gallery, reached him.

Kennedy, apparently, was in the best of health when he started the game.

GANGLAND TO GIVE BONUSES

Civic Leaders Stirred By Report Friendly Police To Receive $100,000.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Reports that gangdom is preparing to issue $100,000 in bonuses this week to friendly police and public officials today stirred civic leaders in their widespread attack on "Scarface" Alphonse Capone and 25 others listed as "public enemies."

Extra taxes ranging from $100 to $1,000 each levied on 450 North Side resorts led to a private investigation which brought out, according to authorities, the plans of underworld leaders to split a huge melon as a reward for immunity during the present drive to rid the city of racketeers and gangsters.

Workers for the Capone interests are collecting the fund, it was said.

Acting police commissioner John Alcock today was expected to make public the details of a drastic shakeup in the detective bureau following the theft of confidential papers from the bureau which were later found in the hands of a Capone bondsman.

The stolen report listed 31 gangsters who were to be seized in a drive against the underworld.

BUSINESS PLAN FOR U. S. FACES BANKERS' MEET

Constructive Formula Chart Is
Problem of National Gathering.

HOOVER SPEAKER

Criticism of Tariff To Be Expressed.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29.—A challenge to chart a constructive business formula for the nation faced some 6,000 bankers today as the fiftysixth annual convention of the American Bankers' Association opened here.

The course of the four-day convention, which is expected to be one of the most important sessions ever held by the organization of financial leaders, was outlined by John G. Lonsdale, president of the association and head of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Company of St. Louis.

"In the sessions of the association departments which open today and in the general sessions which begin tomorrow, it will be our endeavor to present as clearly as possible a picture of the problems with which we are faced, and as far as practicable, to point out ways by which these problems may be solved," Lonsdale said. "The time was never more opportune than now for banking leaders to interpret the trend of the times and to chart the safest course which business and banking may pursue."

THREE SUBJECTS

For the most part, it appeared today, interest in the convention centers upon three important subjects: branch banking, bank taxes, and bank earnings. It was expected that the association at this convention may reverse its long-maintained stand in opposition to the extension of national branch banking.

More than 4,000 banker-delegates were already registered for the convention this morning, and more large delegations were arriving almost hourly. It was predicted that by Thursday—the day President Herbert Hoover is scheduled to address the association—nearly 7,000 of the nation's bankers will be on hand.

Departmental conferences featured today's business activities of the convention. Of outstanding interest was the address of John W. Barton, vice president of the Metropolitan National Bank, Minneapolis, and president of the National's existing tariff and immigration policies will be made by Barton. The attack against the tariff law will be grounded on the contention that it hampers free trading of the United States in other countries.

Among the association's departmental and committee meetings scheduled for this morning were those of the membership committee, insurance committee, public relations committee, national bank division, savings bank division, state bank division, tax conference, commerce and marine commission, trust company division, economic policy commission, and state secretaries section.

SUMMER GRIPPE FATAL TO BABE

Evelyn Jean, four-months-old daughter of James and Rita Goss Stonerock, Scioto-twp., died Sunday at 8 p. m. of summer grippe.

Besides the parents the child is survived by two brothers, Floyd and James, and three sisters, Frances, Luella and Mildred.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the South Bloomfield M. E. church with burial in South Bloomfield cemetery.

R. J. BULKLEY TO VISIT CITY

Robert J. Bulkley, Cleveland, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, will visit Circleville on Oct. 30. He will make 75 speeches during his tour of the state.

HOOVER AUTHOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—President Hoover appeared today in the role of author and an authority on fish life with the publication of his book, "A Remedy for Disappearing Game Fishes." The volume contains only 41 pages and the edition is limited to 900 copies.

The price is three or four times the cost of the usual book and one could buy a very good trout rod for the same money.

S. V. T. Gives Way To Bus Tuesday Eve

The last Scioto Valley Traction car to run through Circleville will be at 12:34 a. m. Wednesday enroute to Chillicothe. It is expected that the crew of this last car south through the city on regular schedule will have as its crew Mac McCorkle, Chillicothe, motorman, and George Gallagher, Columbus, conductor, both veterans in traction line service.

The car will continue to Chillicothe.

It was just 25 years ago Tuesday that the Scioto Valley Traction Co., moved into its waiting room and ticket office at the present location on N. Court-st.

Just what will be done with the employees of the traction company is not known. Some will be given jobs driving busses; others will retire and still others will be forced to turn to other means of livelihood.

The abandonment of the road will end the service of William "Pop" Hyson, Chillicothe, motorman, the oldest man in point of service with the company. "Pop" was employed by the traction company on Oct. 24, 1905 and has been behind the throttle since that time. He will pilot his car out of Chillicothe for the last time on Sept. 30.

Hyson will retire at the end of his run. He is 70 years old.

John H. Drum, N. Court-st., ticket-agent here will become manager of the Shell Oil Co. station in S. Court-st., beginning his duties Wednesday morning.

YOUTH HOPS FOR RECORD

16-Year-Old Boy Heading
Toward Columbus After

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 29.—Robert Buck, 16, hopped off from here today at 7:10 in an attempt to break the junior transcontinental record, from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

Buck took off an hour ahead of his scheduled time. A steady wind was blowing from the west at the time of the take-off.

His plane carried 100 gallons of gas which will enable Buck to reach Columbus, the first stop, in about six hours.

From Columbus he will go to St. Louis, Mo., from there to Wichita, Kansas, then to Albuquerque, N. M., and then finish at Los Angeles where he will rest a day before setting out to break the west to east record.

Buck forgot his gloves, but a mail truck driver watching the take-off gave him his.

ABANDON HOPE FOR LOST SHIP

Captain and Bride of Two Weeks Lost With Four
Members of Crew.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—All hope of finding the fruit packet North Shore, which has been missing with all on board since the recent storm swept Lake Michigan, was abandoned today after a search by boat and airplane failed to locate the ship.

That the freighter sank 30 miles off Racine, Wis., was the opinion of Capt. W. E. Preston of the Grand Haven, Mich., coast guard station at the conclusion of a two day search. Captain Preston reported sighting wreckage yesterday which he identified as part of the North Shore. No bodies were recovered.

Six persons were aboard the fruit packet when it set out from the Michigan shore with a load of grapes.

Among the six believed lost are Capt. Erwin Anderson and his bride of two weeks and a crew of four. The voyage was a honeymoon trip for Anderson and his wife.

W. J. Laurie of Milwaukee, owner of the boat, directed the search for six hours yesterday from an airplane. Three other airplanes joined in the hunt while eight coast guard cutters cruised about.

FIND BODY OF MISSING FLYER

Parker Found Dead, Bend Efforts On Search For Lost
Columbus Aviator.

CONNEAUT, O., Sept. 29.—Spurred by the discovery of the body of Willard Parker, pilot of the ill-fated cabin monoplane which crashed into Lake Erie near here after a scant 80-mile trip from Cleveland airport early Wednesday morning, searchers redoubled their efforts today in the hunt for the body of William McNulty, Columbus business man, who was a passenger in the craft.

After a two-day search of the shore and Lake near here, the body of the dead pilot was discovered yesterday by Henry Jarvie, a farmer, about one and a half miles east of Conneaut Harbor.

The body was coatless, indicating that Parker had removed his coat in an effort to swim. A watch found on the body had stopped at 2:18. Parker and McNulty had left Cleveland at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday. The body was identified by Dick Sawtelle, Parker's former pupil, and Dan Foltz, a friend of the flyer.

Search for the bodies of the flyers was centered in this vicinity following the discovery of the wreckage of the monoplane early Saturday. The battered remnants of the plane had been washed ashore by a lake gale. A leather aviator's coat, apparently Parker's, was found in the wreckage.

TEACHER KILLED

BRIDGEPORT, O., Sept. 29.—Struck by a speeding auto as she was about to enter her car in front of her home on the national highway, Gladys M. Straight, 25, Pennsylvania school music instructor, is dead here today. The driver of the death car is being held for investigation.

OHIO HISTORY DAY WILL BE NEXT SUNDAY

Fine Program Will Be Given
At Logan Elm Park Off
Scioto Trail.

ROAD EXCELLENT

Randolph Walton, Columbus,
Is Speaker.

The annual meeting of the Ohio History Day Association will be held at Logan Elm Park, six miles southeast of the city next Sunday. Many persons make an all-day affair of the meeting, bring their lunches and get a full day of enjoyment.

With the Scioto Trail open from Columbus and from Chillicothe to the park it is expected that a large crowd will attend the meeting. The Scioto Trail south of the city has been closed during the entire summer for paving and has only recently been opened to travel.

The highway is in splendid condition with the exception of the grade at the Norfolk & Western railroad tracks in S. Court-st., which hasn't been repaired.

The park is on the list of accredited camps which assures plenty of good drinking water.

A fine program has been prepared for the entertainment.

J. F. Carlisle, vice president of the Ohio History Day Association, will preside at the meeting. The program will open with invocation followed by an address of welcome by Mayor B. T. Hedges. A presentation of a flag donated to the association by Phil Weber, Canal Winchester, and presented by George F. Bareis will then be made.

This will be followed by a salute to the flag and "The Star Spangled Banner" by the band and the audience. Remarks will be made by Harlow Lindley of the Ohio State Archeological and Historical Society.

The address of the day will be presented by Randolph Walton of Columbus. Music will be furnished by the Adelphi band.

RADER, GEIB TO PLAY IN FINAL

Pickaway Country Club Golf
Tournament To Be Settled
Next Sunday.

Glen Geib, E. Main-st., and Earl Rader, Fox Postoffice, will meet in the finals of the Pickaway Country Club championship tournament Sunday following Geib's victory over Dr. O. M. House, Williamsport, Sunday. The margin of victory in the Sunday match was six up and five to go.

Rader entered the finals in the upper bracket of the pairing by defeating Paul E. Adkins in the semifinals.

The championship match will be over 36 holes, the first nine starting at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning. Eighteen holes will be played in the morning and 18 in the afternoon.

White, Gubernatorial Candidate, Is Scene.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 29.—The Democratic state campaign, which is scheduled to be inaugurated tonight at Marietta, home of the party's leader, George White, candidate for governor, was preceded here today by a meeting of various candidates who addressed a conference of Muskingum-co Democrats.

In addition to White, the speakers included Robert J. Bulkey, Cleveland, candidate for United States senator; John H. Newman, Columbus, for secretary of state; Joseph T. Ferguson, Lancaster, for state treasurer; Ray Allison, Columbus, for attorney general; William G. Pickrel, Dayton, for lieutenant governor; Will P. Stephenson, West Union, and Charles H. Hubbell, Cleveland, for judges of the state supreme court.

HEAD OF DEAF SCHOOL KILLED

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Crushed beneath an overturned automobile, Dr. John W. Jones, 70, superintendent of the Ohio state school for the deaf, at Columbus, was killed Sunday near Ellis, Kansas, according to a message which was received here today.

Warren Bigler, 77, of Wabash, Indiana, director of the Indiana school for the deaf, was killed in the same accident. Mrs. Jones and another passenger in the car were uninjured. A fifth person suffered a fractured leg.

The Jones machine turned over three times when it hit loose gravel after Dr. Jones lost control at the wheel.

POLO PLAYER HEART VICTIM

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Stricken while participating in a polo game here, Bernard A. Kennedy is dead today.

He was a member of the River Ridge Polo club, which was competing with the Somerset aggregation. The game had been in progress three minutes when Kennedy was seen to slump in his saddle. He held on to the neck of his mount for about half a minute and then tumbled to the ground. He was dead when physicians, who were in the gallery, reached him.

Kennedy, apparently, was in the best of health when he started the game.

JOHNNY MADER RETAINS CADDY CHAMPIONSHIP

1929 Champ Cards Splendid
45-39 Saturday To Cop
Annual Event.

CADDIES TREATED

Merchants Thanked For Donating Prizes.

Johnny Mader, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mader, Park-pl., retained his title of Pickaway Country Club caddy championship Saturday when he put excellent scores of 45-39 together for a total of 84 to cop the first prize, a Vulcan spoon donated by C. G. Shulze. Mader played fine golf, in fact good enough that there are few senior members of the club who can compare with him. His wood shots carried for a distance of 200 yards straight toward the green and his approaches were such that on many greens he had only one putt. His best hole was par 5, No. 5 which he birdied with a four on the final nine.

Johnny's golf has shown quite an improvement over 1929 when he won the caddy tournament with a 49 for nine holes.

Saturday was a royal day in the events of Pickaway Country Club for the fast-waning season with all the caddies of the club, more than 30 strong, were entertained as guests. They were given an excellent dinner at the club house through the donations of the members and were treated to all the ice cream they could eat, given by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Enderlin and all the pop they could drink furnished by Ralph Barger, club steward.

Other prizes given to the caddies for their various scores were as follows:

Second prize, Bob Leist, 92, a Burke brassie donated by C. T. Gilmore;

Third prize, Oakley Warner, 93, Spaulding brassie donated by Frank Casey, pro;

Fourth prize, William Imler, 97, mashie club donated by Walter Kindler.

Most par holes, Charles Glitt, three, white polo shirt donated by Frank Casey;

Highest score, Joe Jenkins, 133, sweater, donated by A. L. Wilder.

Three blind holes, low score, Elden Hill, 5, 6 and 6 on 4, 7 and 9, cap, donated by Harley B. Colwell;

Three blind holes, high score, won by Melvin Dresbach, 10, 10, 7 on 4, 7 and 9, red polo shirt donated by Caddy Miller Hat Shop;

Highest score on any one hole, No. 7, won by Bob Friece, 13 strokes. A necktie donated by Germain Joseph Clothing Co.;

The highest score on No. 5 hole, 11 strokes, won by John Jenkins, two golf balls donated by George H. Fickard.

The caddies and the members of the golf committee wish to thank the merchants and members of the club who so kindly donated prizes to the boys.

These caddies are the golfers of tomorrow and who knows but what Pickaway Country Club will produce a Bobby Jones or Walter Hagen some day.

GANGLAND TO GIVE BONUSES

Civic Leaders Stirred By Report
Friendly Police To
Receive $100,000.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Reports that gangdom is preparing to issue $100,000 in bonuses this week to friendly police and public officials today stirred civic leaders in their widespread attack on "Scarface" Alphonse Capone and 25 others listed as "public enemies."

Extra taxes ranging from $100 to $1,000 each levied on 450 North Side resorts led to a private investigation which brought out, according to authorities, the plans of underworld leaders to split a huge melon as a reward for immunity during the present drive to rid the city of racketeers and gangsters.

Workers for the Capone interests are collecting the fund, it was said.

Acting police commissioner John Alcock today was expected to make public the details of a drastic shakeup in the detective bureau following the theft of confidential papers from the bureau which were later found in the hands of a Capone bondsman.

The stolen report listed 31 gangsters who were to be seized in a drive against the underworld.

HOLDUP VICTIM DIES OF WOUND

MARTINS FERRY, O., Sept. 29.—Shot a week ago by two bandits who robbed him of $17 in a hold-up west of here, James Meeker, 60, Colerain farmer, died today in Martins Ferry hospital.

Meeker was returning home after selling vegetables in the city when the boys, John F. Woods, 13, and Louis Kuhen, 17, whom he had given rides on his wagon, held him up, according to police. The two youthful robbers are held by authorities.

LUMBER FIRE SWEEPS CITY

PORTSMOUTH, O., Sept. 29.—One of the largest blazes in this city in recent years had left in its wake today a loss of more than $200,000. The Carl Bauer Lumber Company yards here was destroyed yesterday as all the city's fire-fighting equipment battled the blaze for several hours before it was brought under control.

Several large oil storage tanks were threatened for a time but a high wind later turned the flames in the opposite direction. Firemen prevented the flames from spreading to nearby buildings.

FALL IS FATAL

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 29.—A fall from the roof of his home last week while he was erecting a radio aerial today had proved fatal to Forrest Wilcox, 22. The youth died in Good Samaritan hospital here yesterday from head injuries. He had been in a state of coma since the fall.

Roy May In Serious Condition
Following Attack Early Sunday.

RIBS FRACTURED

Animal Had Reputation of Being Gentle.

Roy May, farmer of near East Ringgold, is in a serious condition at his home following injuries he received when attacked by a bull shortly after 6 a. m. Sunday. May, well known here, is suffering from several broken ribs, a dislocated shoulder and torn ligaments in his left shoulder.

He had gone into the barn-yard to feed the cattle when the three-year-old bull became enraged and charged at him. May was driven against the side of the wood-shed where he was unable to free himself. The ferocity of the charge of the bull pushed him through the wall of the shed. The attention of the bull was drawn by Mrs. May who, hearing the cries of her husband, ran from the house into the barn-yard.

Mrs. May aided her husband to the house and summoned Dr. Addison Kefauver of Stoutsville, who treated May's injuries.

The animal had been a gentle one and Mrs. May Monday could not explain its action.

The injured man is a son of William May, prominent county farmer.

TRAFFIC FATAL TO 13 OHIOANS

Auto Race Driver Among Dead; Toledo Accidents
Fatal To 2 Women.

By International News Service
Traffic mishaps snuffed out the lives of 13 Ohioans over the weekend, according to today's International News Service survey.

Two persons were killed at Akron. Joe Molner, 30, auto race driver, was killed during the 100-mile gold cup event of the American Automobile Association at the Akron speedway yesterday. The other victim was Mrs. Bertha George, 32, who was fatally injured in a head-on collision.

The lives of two women were taken in accidents at Toledo. They were Mrs. Minnie Parker, 57, and Mrs. C. W. Kreiner, 30.

A hit-skip motorist was held responsible for the death of Gladys Straight at Bridgeport, O., who was killed instantly.

A woman and a 7-year-old girl were killed in two accidents at Cleveland. Mrs. Florence Buchs, 32, of Kipton, O., was killed and three of her four children were injured when their car collided with another. Eileen Hendrickson, the small girl, lost her life almost instantly when she was hit by a truck.

Raymond Mitchell, 19, of Zanesville, was the victim of a hit-skip driver, who is being sought by police.

Levi Blackburn, 55, of Vanceburg, Ky., was killed when his auto plunged over an embankment near Manchester, O.

In a crash at Covington, Ky., Phillip Horn, 26, of Williamsburg, O., was killed instantly.

George E. Hageman, 62, was fatally injured when he was struck by a machine as he was crossing a street near his home in Cincinnati.

Michael Wult, 20 months old, was crushed beneath the wheels of a Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train near Columbus. The little tot was riding in a car with his parents, who were injured.

Mrs. Hannah Crawford, of Cadiz, was killed when the car in which she was riding overturned near her home.

WOOSTER HIT BY LOSS OF MANY VETS

Coach Boles Faces Task of Re-building Team To Satisfy His Followers.

BY JOSEPH K. RUKENROD.

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 29.—L. C. Boles, master builder of football teams, faces one of his toughest assignments this year as he begins his fifteenth consecutive year as coach of Wooster College.

The wave of economy which has struck the country seems to have included the entire Boles squad, for there is an extreme dearth of lettermen and veterans this year. But there is still the same clamor for a winning team from Old Man General Public.

Boles will have a hard time in building a good team. But followers of Wooster are expecting him to do just that. They look back over 15 years during which Boles' teams have won 86 football games while losing only 21. Ten games ended in ties during this period. During four of the 15 years, Wooster was undefeated.

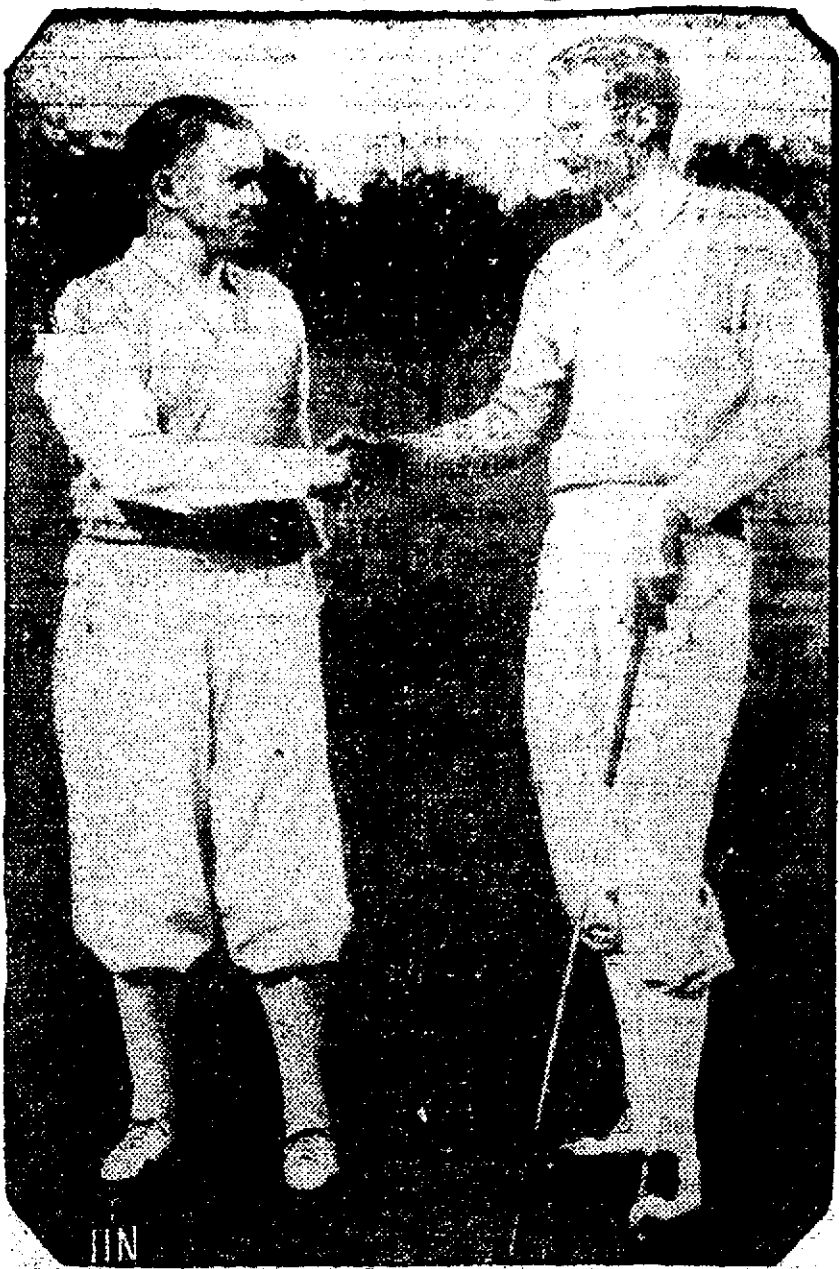

Eleven of last year's lettermen failed to return. Graduation took Captain Black, guard; Kallio, center, and Meier and Donley, his understudies; Bing, guard; Bishop, tackle; Dave and Bill Query, half-backs; and Bob Runyan, fullback. Jim Donley, end, and Reidt, kick-off king from Oklahoma, did not return to school.

Of the eight lettermen who have reported back this year, the brightest star is Cliff Nelson, last year's sophomore quarterback, whose playing was one of the features of Ohio gridiron clashes. Nelson's headwork and general all-around play was a big cog in Wooster's success last year and he is counted on again as the mainstay of the team.

Captain Don Haines and Tibby Young will also be in the backfield. Lettermen on the forward wall are Bridenstine, Romig, Miller and Harold Haines, twin brother of the captain. Other members of the 1929-teams who will probably see service are Howers, Pfeister, Price, Ward, Lathrop and Tannehill.

Of last year's freshman crew, the most likely candidates are Rumbaugh, center, Small and Gos-

The season opened here Saturday with a victory over West Liberty Normal. Others on the schedule are Ashland, Baldwin-Wallace, Akron, Oberlin, Case, Muskingum, Mt. Union and Denison.

SCRIBE FAVORS ST. LOUIS NINE

Kilgallen Says Cardinals Riding On Wave of Winning Streak To Continue.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—With two great ball clubs—the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals—primed for the opening here on Wednesday of what promises to be a dramatic and hotly contested world series, America's vast army of baseball addicts today were warmly debating the question of the hour, namely:

"Which team is going to win?" Although betting odds, usually a pretty good gauge of public opinion, have made the A's 13 to 10 favorites to win, the writer after a careful analysis of various factors, psychological and otherwise, is unable to string along. His answer to the mooted question is this:

"St. Louis will win." With all due respects to the A's, a powerful and well-managed club, I think they are going to "blow" this one. They are going up against one of the most courageous teams ever to win a pennant in any league—a club that made one of the gamiest and most remarkable fights in all baseball history to win the National League flag. Furthermore, St. Louis will ride into the series with the Athletics on the momentum of a winning streak that has been in progress since August 9 last and shows no signs of cracking.

OPTIMISM AT GOPHER CAMP

Coach Crisler at Minnesota To Supplant Veterans With Sophomores.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 29.—It must be necessary for Coach Crisler to pinch himself now and then in order to make certain that he isn't dreaming when he looks over the men trying for places on his Minnesota football team. Fritz, you see, this fall started here as head coach after half a dozen seasons as assistant to A. A. Stagg, at Chicago, and it's pretty hard for him to realize that there can possibly be such material after the slim squads he grew accustomed to on the midway.

With what he inherited from Doc Spear's crushing aggregation of 1929 and the new men coming up from sophomore and reserve ranks, Coach Crisler seems quite likely to develop a team that will be a terror to its foes. Fritz has started right in by adding some of the deceptive Chicago plays to the customary pouncing, Minnesota attack, and the union of the two may result in the sort of football machine that no one can stop. There is no question about the wealth of material he has to work with. Some of it is green, but the inexperience isn't the sort likely to be fatal. In fact, indications are that at least four sophomores will sidetrack veterans for regular jobs—three of them in the line.

That forward wall is the sort that Fritz probably used to dream about on the midway. From end to end there isn't a man who weighs less than 185 pounds, and taken as a whole, it averages well over the 200 mark.

The backfield will be a typical Minnesota affair with a touch of Chicago deception, although Fritz is finding it difficult to work in some of his lateral-pass and flank-er plays.

Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA

In "Manslaughter" the Cliftona theatre's feature for the first part of the week, Paramount has brought together three of the biggest personalities the stage has given to talking pictures. They are George Abbott, the director, Claudette Colbert and Fredric March. Each of them has contributed an excellent piece of work to the Alice Duer Miller story which since its first appearance in 1922, has become a best-seller novel of all time.

"Manslaughter" is the story of a wealthy girl, carefree, careless and thoughtlessly selfish. When she falls in love with the serious-minded and ambitious young district attorney, she renounces her madcap career and she faces a term in prison, with the district attorney fighting against her. Her love turns to hate when she finds all her wealth and influence, her beauty and her wiles are unable to save her from justice.

AT THE GRAND

Winnie Lightner, singing star of "Hold Everything," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone hilarious comedy at the Grand theatre selected the songs she sings in this picture. A choice was offered her from the songs of the writers on the Warner Bros. Hollywood staff and from the numerous songs she chose those written by Al Dubin and Joe Burke, composers of innumerable successes in the past.

Among the amusing and melodious hits in "Hold Everything" to be fatal. In fact, indications are that at least four sophomores will sidetrack veterans for regular jobs—three of them in the line.

Georges Carpentier also sings in "Hold Everything." He sings the beautiful hit, "Sing a Little Theme Song," which is taking the count-try by storm.

AT THE METROPOLITAN

An extremely versatile young man is Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., featured in Universal's sparkling comedy drama "Little Accident," now at the Metropolitan theatre. In addition to his ability as a screen and stage actor, "Young Doug," as he is popularly known, is accomplished in painting and carving, has written poems, and recently took to writing articles for the magazines. What is more, undoubtedly the scope of his education had much to do with his abilities. He was educated in New York, Los Angeles, London and Paris. In Paris he studied painting and sculpture for three years, and for his own pleasure still pursues these arts.

"Young Doug" early started on a moving picture career through "hanging around" the studio of his famous father. Occasionally he would make a suggestion to his father or the director. When the suggestion was accepted, a check would be forthcoming.

ASHVILLE LOSES TO COLUMBUS 9

Trailing 5-4 at the opening of the ninth inning, Columbus Havenline Oils, central Ohio champions, opened up on Bud Costlow and before smoke of battle had subsided had scored six runs. The game ended just that way and Ashville Suburbanites took a trouncing, 10 to 5.

Costlow was breezing along very nicely when an avalanche of base hits combined with a few errors, chased plenty of runs over the rubber.

The two teams will play a third game next Sunday at Ashville to decide a three game series.

South Americans don't run for office. They just take it and make the other fellow run.

WOOSTER HIT BY LOSS OF MANY VETS

Coach Boles Faces Task of Re-building Team To Satisfy His Followers.

BY JOSEPH K. RUENROD.
WOOSTER, O., Sept. 29.—L. C. Boles, master builder of football teams, faces one of his toughest assignments this year as he begins his fifteenth consecutive year as coach of Wooster College.

The wave of economy which has struck the country seems to have included the entire Boles' squad, for there is an extreme dearth of lettermen and veterans this year. But there is still the same clamor for a winning team from Old Man General Public.

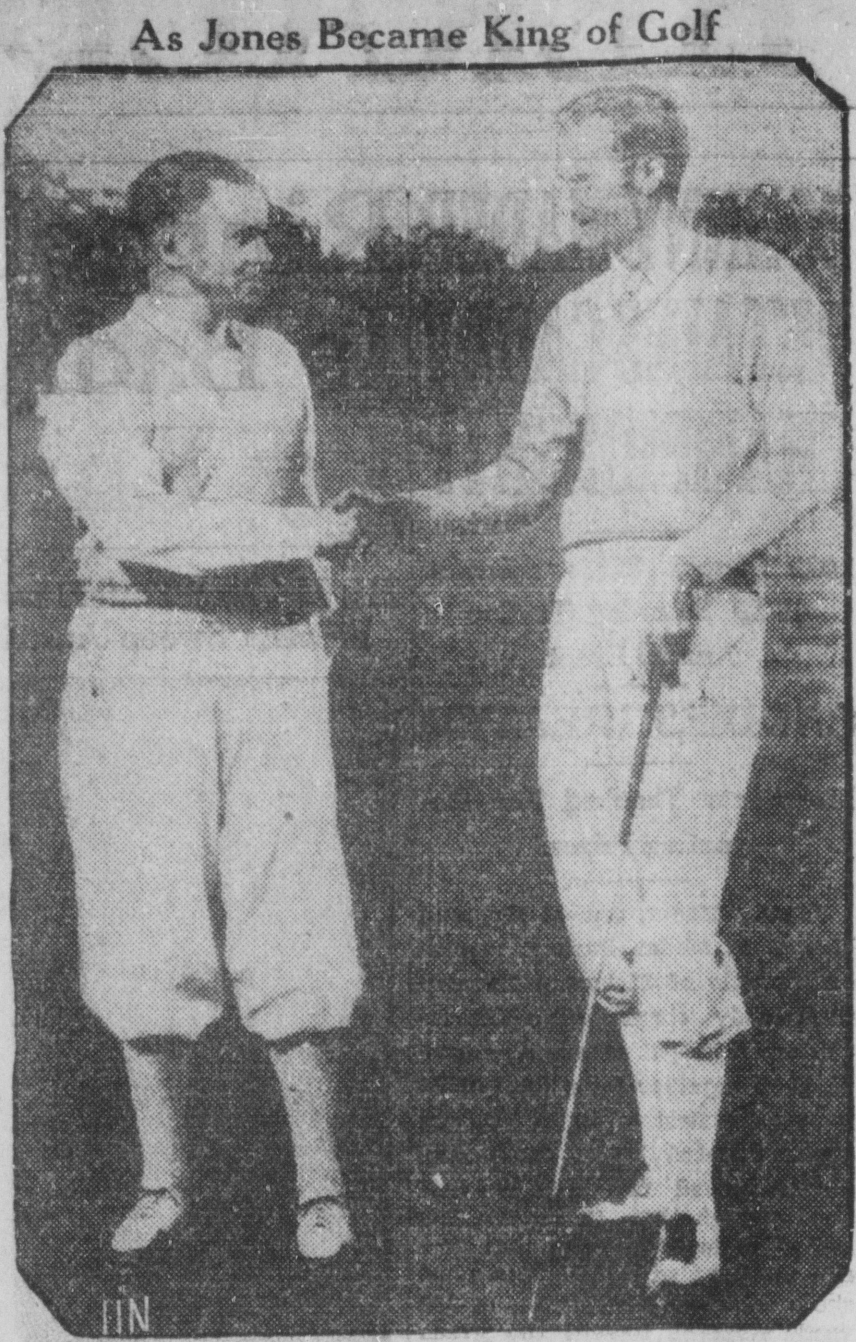

Boles will have a hard time, in building a good team. But followers of Wooster are expecting him to do just that. They look back over 15 years, during which Boles' teams have won 86 football games while losing only 21. Ten games ended in ties during this period. During four of the 15 years, Wooster was undefeated.

Eleven of last year's lettermen failed to return. Graduation took Captain Black, guard; Kallio, center, and Meier and Donley, his understudies; Bing, guard; Bishop, tackle; Dave and Bill Query, half-backs, and Bob Runyan, fullback. Jim Donley, end, and Reidt, kick-off king from Oklahoma, did not return to school.

Of the eight lettermen who have reported back this year, the brightest star is Cliff Nelson, last year's sophomore quarterback, whose playing was one of the features of Ohio gridiron clashes. Nelson's headwork and general all-round play was a big cog in Wooster's success last year and he is counted on again as the mainstay of the team.

Captain Don Haines and Tibby Young will also be in the backfield. Lettermen on the forward wall are Bridenstine, Romig, Miller and Harold Haines, twin brother of the captain. Other members of the 1929 teams who will probably see service are Howers, Pfeister, Price, Ward, Lathrop and Tannehill.

Of last year's freshman crew, the most likely candidates are Rumbaugh, center, Small and Gos-

Bobby Jones, left, new king of golf without a rival, shakes hands with Eugene Homans, right, whose defeat at the hands of the Atlanta, Ga., links star brought to reality Bobby's dream of victory in all major golf tournaments in one year. Jones defeated Homans, eight and seven, in the finals of the national amateur championship tourney at Ardmore, Pa., adding the American amateur crown of 1930 to the other three 1930 championships—British amateur, British open and American open—which he holds.

horn, guards, and Wakefield and Howell, backs.

The season opened here Saturday with a victory over West Liberty Normal. Others on the schedule are Ashland, Baldwin-Wallace, Akron, Oberlin, Case, Muskingum, Mt. Union and Denison.

SCRIBE FAVORS ST. LOUIS NINE

Kilgallen Says Cardinals Riding On Wave of Winning Streak To Continue.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—With two great ball clubs—the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals—primed for the opening here on Wednesday of what promises to be a dramatic and hotly contested world series, America's vast army of baseball addicts today were warmly debating the question of the hour, namely: "Which team is going to win?"

Although betting odds, usually a pretty good gauge of public opinion, have made the A's 13 to 10 favorites to win, the writer after a careful analysis of various factors, psychological and otherwise, is unable to string along. His answer to the mooted question is this:

"St. Louis will win."

With all due respects to the A's, a powerful and well-managed club, I think they are going to "blow" this one. They are going up against one of the most courageous teams ever to win a pennant in any league—a club that made one of the game's most remarkable fights in all baseball history to win the National League flag. Furthermore, St. Louis will ride into the series with the Athletics on the momentum of a winning streak that has been in progress since August 9 last and shows no signs of cracking.

OPTIMISM AT GOPHER CAMP

Coach Crisler at Minnesota To Supplant Veterans With Sophomores.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 29.—It must be necessary for Coach Crisler to pinch himself now and then in order to make certain that he isn't dreaming when he looks over the men trying for places on his Minnesota football team. Fritz, you see, this fall started here as head coach after half a dozen seasons as assistant to A. A. Stagg at Chicago, and it's pretty hard for him to realize that there can possibly be such material after the slim squads he grew accustomed to on the midway.

With what he inherited from Doc Spear's crushing aggregation of 1929 and the new men coming up from sophomore and reserve ranks, Coach Crisler seems quite likely to develop a team that will be a terror to its foes. Fritz has started right in by adding some of the deceptive Chicago plays to the customary pounding Minnesota attack, and the union of the two may result in the sort of football machine that no one can stop. There is no question about the wealth of material he has to work with. Some of it is green, but the inexperience isn't the sort likely to be fatal. In fact, indications are that at least four sophomores will sidetrack veterans for regular jobs—three of them in the line.

That forward wall is the sort that Fritz probably used to dream about on the midway. From end to end there isn't a man who weighs less than 185 pounds, and taken as a whole, it averages well over the 200 mark.

The backfield will be a typical Minnesota affair with a touch of Chicago deception, although Fritz is finding it difficult to work in some of his lateral-pass and flanker plays.

Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA
In "Manslaughter" the Cliftona theatre's feature for the first part of the week, Paramount has brought together three of the biggest personalities the stage has given to talking pictures. They are George Abbott, the director, Claudette Colbert and Fredric March. Each of them has contributed an excellent piece of work to the Alice Duer Miller story which since its first appearance in 1922, has become a best-seller novel of all time.

"Manslaughter" is the story of a wealthy girl, carefree, careless and thoughtlessly selfish. When she falls in love with the serious-minded and ambitious young district attorney, she resents his criticism of her mode of life. Then tragedy overtakes her madcap career and she faces a term in prison, with the district attorney fighting against her. Her love turns to hate when she finds all her wealth and influence, her beauty and her wiles are unable to save her from justice.

AT THE GRAND
Winnie Lightner, singing star of "Hold Everything," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone hilarious comedy at the Grand theatre selected the songs she sings in this picture. A choice was offered her from the songs of the writers on the Warner Bros. Hollywood staff and from the numerous songs she chose those written by Al Dubin and Joe Burke, composers of innumerable successes in the past.

Among the amusing and melodious hits in "Hold Everything" which Miss Lightner sings are "Physically Fit," "Take it on the Chin" and "Isn't This a Cock-eyed World."

Georges Carpentier also sings in "Hold Everything." He sings the beautiful hit, "Sing a Little Theme Song," which is taking the country by storm.

AT THE METROPOLITAN
An extremely versatile young man is Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., featured in Universal's sparkling comedy drama "Little Accident," now at the Metropolitan theatre.

In addition to his ability as a screen and stage actor, "Young Doug," as he is popularly known, is accomplished in painting and carving, has written poems, and recently took to writing articles for the magazines. What is more, Undoubtedly the scope of his education had much to do with his abilities. He was educated in New York, Los Angeles, London and Paris. In Paris he studied painting and sculpture for three years, and for his own pleasure still pursues these arts.

"Young Doug" early started on a moving picture career through "hanging around" the studio of his famous father. Occasionally he would make a suggestion to his father or the director. When the suggestion was accepted, a check would be forthcoming.

ASHVILLE LOSES TO COLUMBUS 9

Trailing 5-4 at the opening of the ninth inning, Columbus Havana Oils, central Ohio champions, opened up on Bud Costlow and before smoke of battle had subsided had scored six runs. The game ended just that way and Ashville Suburbanites took a trouncing, 10 to 5.

Costlow was breezing along very nicely when an avalanche of base hits combined with a few errors, chased plenty of runs over the rubber.

The two teams will play a third game next Sunday at Ashville to decide a three game series.

South Americans don't run for office. They just take it and make the other fellow run.

Herald Ads Guide Thousands of Men to Better Style and Values In Clothing!

Each week there appears in The Herald many lines of men's clothing advertisements. The ads serve two purposes: First, they are the most direct and inexpensive way a merchant can talk to his prospective customers. Second, by reading the Ads men can decide upon style, the price they want to pay and make their purchases without store-to-store shopping. . . . Most men consider their time valuable. . . . They can't spare the hours necessary to wander from here to there, seeking and searching for a new style or right value. As a result men become dependent upon the clothing advertising appearing in the newspaper they read. They watch it closely for suggestions and announcements. . . . Men read The Herald regularly. Appealing to them is the brief and interesting style used in giving all the happenings of world, nation and State, each day. The sports page on which is found interesting and expert accounts of all the sporting events, the market page which includes not only the latest market reports but a newsy Classified Ad section in which men can trade, buy and sell, appeals to them. Men like the dependable manner in which The Herald's editorial staff covers events in Circleville and Pickaway County—they like the cartoons, the comics, the other art features.

Men who read The Herald, and there's thousands of them, have no trouble selecting "what's new" at the price they want to pay, after following clothing merchants advertising in this newspaper. . . . And too, the clothing merchants who are using newspaper advertising in preference to all other forms are finding new business coming they way each day at lowest possible advertising cost.

Cheerful Prophecy

ONE of the most hopeful statements made lately on business prospects is that of Dr. David Friday, New York economist. He foresees a slow, steady recovery this fall, gaining momentum next year and reaching a record height in 1932. So may it be! Some of his prophetic details are even more interesting than his time schedule. He expects none of the "price strengthening" regarded by most business men as essential to business improvement. Prices, he says, will continue trending downward. How, then, are producers to benefit? Dr. Friday reminds them that in the last 10 years, while commodity prices fell 50 percent, profits increased 260 per cent. This was the result of increased efficiency of labor and manufacturing and increased purchasing power of labor. Wages will not go higher, he thinks. So there is one stable factor. But labor, because of the lower cost of goods, will have still higher purchasing power, and therefore higher "real wages."

Argentine Maize

THE new government of Argentina wants the United States government to admit free of duty 20,000,000 bushels of corn, as a special favor. That isn't much for our country, Argentina explains, being a mere 1 per cent of American production, but it would mean a great deal to her. "In view of the special circumstances affecting maize in Argentina as a result of extraordinarily low prices, and in view of the close relations we maintain with the United States," it is expected that we will sympathize with this request, "giving new proof of friendship and good will, and thus preparing a way for new treaties of reciprocity which are to be negotiated." We are sympathetic, all right, but our government finds the request somewhat embarrassing. We might be glad to trade Argentina wheat for her corn, though even that would strain the governmental machinery.

Another thing wrong with those peace golf courses is the player hasn't enough freedom to cuss.

Fascism at Berlin

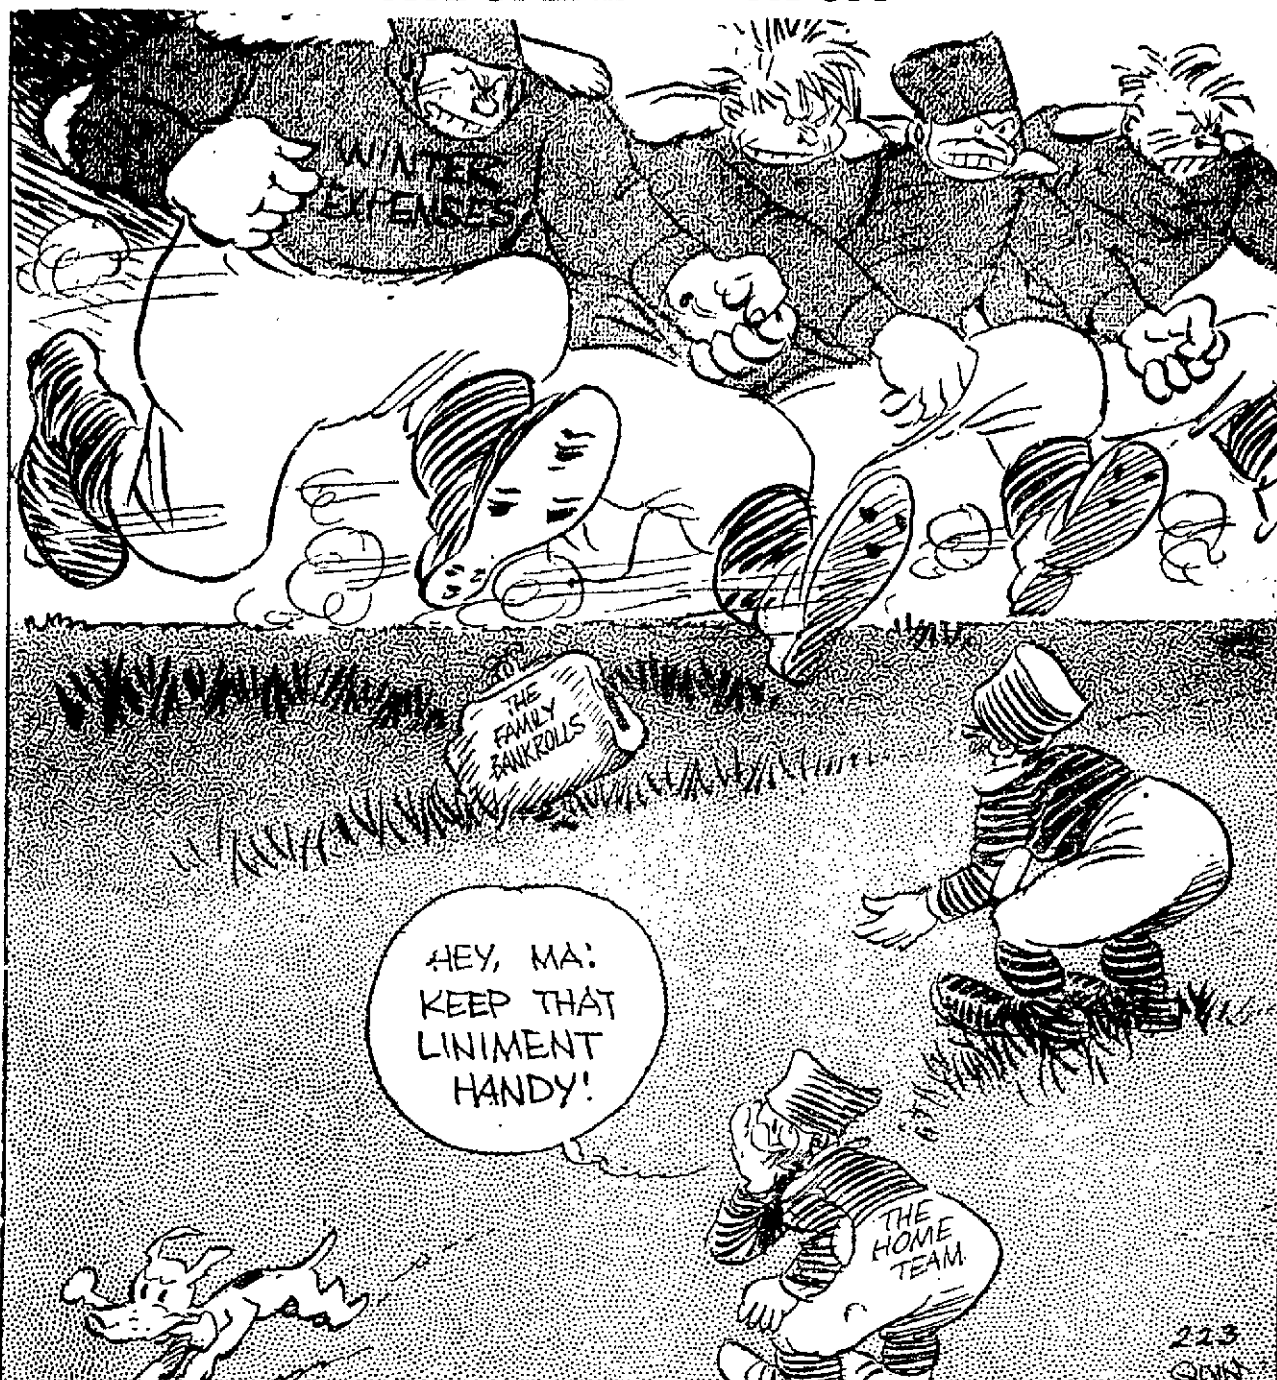

A DOLF Hitler, head of the Fascist party which won second place in the recent national election, talks very big. Accused of treason in court, he denies the charge but declares his intention of overthrowing the present German Republic by peaceful means and setting up a Fascist Empire. He sees himself as the Mussolini of Germany, and expects victory within three years. Then, he says frankly, he will upset the German war treaties, "both diplomatically and by completely evading them." Germany will be cleansed of the "war guilt" admission forced on her, and there will be no more reparations. To this bluster French officials merely reply that revising treaties is a more complicated affair than drafting a political program. Their Missourian attitude is probably justified. No statesman in power at Berlin is likely to act in so revolutionary a way as Hitler talks. But the question interests the world, and particularly Americans. If Germany refuses to pay the Allies, the Allies will not pay the Versailles Treaty and the Young Plan would mean either allied repudiation to match it, or American cancellation of our war loans.

Queen Helen of Rumania is just an old-fashioned girl after all, or she'd be in Reno.

Self-Punishment

TWO many men drop dead on American golf courses," remarks a prominent physician, "and there are a great many whose life expectancies are cut down by injudicious sport." Indulgence. Too many college and high school students are here to quit school because of the ill effects of unwise athletics. "Exercise carried beyond the limit of reason is punishment, not exercise. Up to a certain point it is a developer; beyond that point it is destructive." It's surprising what gluttons Americans are for this sort of punishment. We seem to take our sports more seriously than we do our health.

THE OPENING KICK-OFF

"The SEA BRIDE" THE ROMANCE OF AN EVENTFUL WHALING CRUISE

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

CHAPTER XLV.

DAN'L Tobey chuckled at Brander. "Eh, Brander, I'm ashamed for ye," he said. "Such an example to the crew!"

Brander held silent. He was waiting for Faith to speak.

When neither Brander nor Mauer would answer her, Faith turned her back on them all, went to the after rail, and stood there alone, thinking. She knew Dan'l would wait on her word. What was she to do? She needed Brander; she would need him more and more. Dan'l was never to be trusted; she must have a man at her back. In spite of her belief that he had done this thing, she trusted Brander. And she loved him—loved him so that as she stood there, with her back to them all, the tears rolled down her cheeks, and her nails dug at her palms.

Why had he done this? Why did he not deny—protest—defend himself? She loved him so much that she hated him. If he had offended against herself alone, she might have forgiven; but by stealing whisky and giving it to the crew he was striking at the welfare of the Sally Sims, and the Sally was dearer to Faith just now than herself.

She set her lips, brushed the tears from her cheeks, and turned back to them. "Mr. Tobey," she said, "put Mr. Brander in irons below. Give Mauer a whipping and send him forward."

She hesitated a moment, glanced at Willis.

"If you'll come down to the cabin with me," she said, "I'll give you the irons."

Willis stepped toward her; and with no further glance for Brander, she turned and went below. They had been two weeks hard and fast on the sand; there was another week ahead of them. A easterly storm would cement them into the sand beyond any help; and the men looked for it daily. For the rest, there was little to do. The Sally was in shape again, ready to be off if she had the chance.

The men, with sullen faces, looked about the fore deck and whispered man to man. Dan'l went across the deck and then gave a look at the crew. They were all looking at him with eyes that were not friendly.

But he was not morose. He was so very cheerful. He spoke in loud, strong tones that were his custom, and there was no hostile bite to his tongue; but his eyes were narrow, and he was frowning.

Once or twice Faith saw him turn away from a word, and then he was watching her, and his eyes were not friendly.

But he was not morose; he was so very cheerful. He spoke in loud, strong tones that were his custom, and there was no hostile bite to his tongue; but his eyes were narrow, and he was frowning.

The tide was at the flood that night at nine o'clock; and for half an hour before, and for a full hour after the waters had begun to ebb, every man of them strove to stir the Sally. They strove fruitlessly; for the ship seemed fast-bedded in the sand, beyond moving. At ten o'clock Faith left the deck and went sick-heartedly below.

At half past ten Dan'l knocked on the door of the after cabin, and she bade him come in. He opened the door, shut it behind him, looked at her with his cap in his hands for a space, then sat down on the seat beside the desk where she was sitting.

"Eh, Faith!" he said. "We're stuck. For a moment she did not answer; then she lifted her head and looked at him.

"There's a high tide tomorrow night; times it's a bit higher than it is on the flood," she said. "We'll get more casks out of the hold tomorrow, and at night we'll float her."

Dan'l shook his head slowly. "You're brave, Faith, and strong, but the sea's stronger. I've sailed long enough to know."

The man sat back in silence for a space, not looking at her; nor did

"Aye, and but for him you'd have loved me!" he replied bitterly.

free," she said steadfastly. "It's in my mind to get her off if we have to take every stick out of her and lift her off ourselves."

"If we could do it, I'd be with you," he told her. "But we can't, Faith."

"We will," she said. He smiled, studied her for a moment, then leaned toward her, resting his hands on the desk.

"Faith," he said softly, "you're a wonderful, brave woman."

She looked at him with a weary flicker of lips and eyes that might have passed for a smile.

"It's not that I'm brave, Dan'l," she said. "It's just that I'll not let Noll Wing's ship rot here when it should be bound home to the other side of the world."

"Noll Wing's ship?" he echoed. "Eh, Faith, but Noll Wing is dead and gone."

She nodded. "He's dead and gone, Faith," he repeated softly. "He's dead and gone, and but for Noll Wing, Faith, you'd have loved me, three years ago."

She looked up then, and studied him, and she said softly: "You'll mind, Dan'l, that Noll Wing is not but three weeks dead?" "Three weeks dead?" he cried. "Have I not seen? It's been a dead man this year past—a dead man that walked and talked and swore, but dead this year past. You've been a widow for a year, Faith!"

Medical Profession Becoming Alarmed at Steady Growth in "Mind" Cases, Says Dr. Copeland, Discussing Care and Treatment of the Mentally Sick.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

NO greater affliction can come to man than loss of reason. When mental control is lost, direction of the body and its acts is gone. There is much alarm in the ranks of the medical profession today over the steady growth and complexity of mental diseases. The problem of the mentally defective is always a serious one. The American Medical Association, at its recent meeting, took action to bring about a more scientific handling of these problems. To further scientific investigation it was thought desirable to appoint a special committee. This will concern itself solely with psychiatric services in the criminal courts and prisons. It will cooperate with hospitals and other organizations in the care and treatment of the mentally ill. And at the same time an effort will be made to promote greater progress in the treatment of mental defectives. The efforts to deal justly and wisely with criminal offenders are often handicapped. They fail because some lawyers and judges do not have the same conception of the Prices, he says, will continue trending downward.

How, then, are producers to benefit? Dr. Friday reminds them that in the last 10 years, while commodity prices fell 50 percent, profits increased 260 percent.

This was the result of increased efficiency of labor and manufacture and increased purchasing power of labor.

Wages will not go higher, he thinks. So there is one stable factor. But labor, because of the lower cost of goods, will have still higher purchasing power, and therefore higher "real wages."

Argentine Maize

THE new government of Argentina wants the United States government to admit free of duty 20,000,000 bushels of corn, as a special favor. That isn't much for our country, Argentina explains, being a mere 1 percent of American production, but it would mean a great deal to her.

"In view of the special circumstances affecting maize in Argentina as a result of extraordinarily low prices, and in view of the close relations we maintain with the United States," it is expected that we will sympathize with this request, "giving new proof of friendship and good will, and thus preparing a way for new treaties of reciprocity which are to be negotiated."

We are sympathetic, all right, but our government finds the request somewhat embarrassing.

We might be glad to trade Argentina wheat for her corn, though even that would strain the governmental machinery.

Another thing wrong with those pence golf courses, is the player hasn't enough freedom to cuss.

Fascism at Berlin

A DOLF Hitler, head of the Fascist party which won second place in the recent national election, talks very big. Accused of treason in court, he denies the charge but declares his intention of overthrowing the present German Republic by peaceful means and setting up a Fascist Empire. He sees himself as the Mussolini of Germany, and expects victory within three years.

Then, he says frankly, he will upset the German war treaties, "both diplomatically and by completely evading them." Germany will be cleansed of the "war guilt" admission forced on her, and there will be no more reparations.

To this bluster French officials merely reply that revising treaties is a more complicated affair than drafting a political program.

Their Missouri attitude is probably justified. No statesman in power at Berlin is likely to act in so revolutionary a way as Hitler talks. But the question interests the world, and particularly America.

If Germany refuses to pay the Allies, the Allies will not pay the Allies. Under the Versailles Treaty and the Young Plan would mean either allied repudiation to match it, or American cancellation of our war loans.

Queen Helen of Rumania is just an old-fashioned girl after all, or she'd be in Reno.

Self-Punishment

TOO many men drop dead on American golf courses," remarks a prominent physician, "and there are a great many more whose life expectancies are cut down by injudicious sport indulgence. Too many college and high school students are being to quit school because of the ill effects of unwise athletics."

"Exercise carried beyond the limit of reason is punishment, not exercise. Up to a certain point it is a developer; beyond that point it is destructive."

It's surprising what gluttons Americans are for this sort of punishment. We seem to take our sports more seriously than we do our health.

THE OPENING KICK-OFF

"The SEA BRIDE"

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

THE ROMANCE OF AN EVENTFUL WHALING CRUISE

CHAPTER XLV.

DAN'L Tobey chuckled at Brander.

"Eh, Brander, I'm ashamed for ye," he said. "Such an example to the crew!"

Brander held silent. He was waiting for Faith to speak.

When neither Brander nor Mauger would answer her, Faith turned her back on them all, went to the after rail, and stood there alone, thinking. She knew Dan'l would wait on her word. What was she to do? She needed Brander; she would need him more and more. Dan'l was never to be trusted; she must have a man at her back. In spite of her belief that he had done this thing, she trusted Brander. And she loved him—loved him so that as she stood there, with her back to them all, the tears rolled down her cheeks, and her nails dug at her palms.

Why had he done this? Why did he not deny—protest—defend himself? She loved him so much that she hated him. If he had of fended against herself alone, she might have forgiven; but by stealing whisky and giving it to the crew he was striking at the welfare of the Sally Sims, and the Sally was dearer to Faith just now than herself.

She set her lips, brushed the tears from her cheeks, and turned back to them.

"Mr. Tobey," she said, "put Mr. Brander in irons below. Give Mauger a whipping and send him forward."

She hesitated a moment, glanced at Willis.

"If you'll come down to the cabin with me," she said, "I'll give you the iron."

Willis stepped toward her; and with no further glance for Brander, she turned and went below.

They had been two weeks hard and fast on the sand; there was another week ahead of them. An easterly storm would cement them into the sand beyond any help; and the men looked for it daily. For the rest, there was little to do. The Sally was in shape again, ready to be off if she had the chance.

The men, with sullen faces, loafed about the fore deck and whispered man to man. Dan'l went among them now and then and talked much with Roy, and some with the others. Roy was elated in those days; the boy went about with shining eyes and triumphant lips. Every other face among the crew was morose save his.

Dan'l was not morose. He was overly cheerful. He spoke in louder tones than was his custom, and there was no caustic bite to his tongue; but his eyes were narrower and more furtive. Once or twice Faith saw him turn away from a word with some one of the crew and catch sight of her watching him, and flash angrily.

At half past ten Dan'l knocked on the door of the after cabin, and she bade him come in. He opened the door, shut it behind him, looked at her with his cap in his hands for a space, then sat down on the seat beside the desk where she was sitting.

"Eh, Faith!" he said. "We're stuck."

For a moment she did not answer; then she lifted her head and looked at him.

"There's a high tide tomorrow night; times it's a bit higher than it is on the flood," she said.

"We'll get more casks out of the hold tomorrow, and at night we'll float her."

Dan'l shook his head slowly.

"You're brave, Faith, and strong, but the sea's stronger. I've sailed long enough to know."

"The Sally Sims has got to come to the wharf at home."

"Then you'll die his wife, Faith; for the Sally'll never stir from here."

"If she never does," said Faith, "I'll die Noll Wing's wife, as you say."

"What was Noll Wing that you should cling to him so, Faith?" he cried.

"He was the man I loved," she said.

His face blackened, and his fist banged the desk.

"Aye; and but for him you'd have loved me!" he replied bitterly.

"I never told you that, Dan'l."

"But 'twas true. I could see. You'd have loved me, Faith!"

"Dan'l," she said slowly, "I'm in no mind to talk so much of love tonight."

The man sat back in silence for a space, not looking at her; nor did he look at him. In the end, however, he shaped his words afresh.

"Faith," he said softly, "we were boy and girl together, you and I. We grew up together, I loved you before you were a woman—before you ever saw Noll Wing. Can you remember?"

He was striving with all his might to win her; and Faith said gently:

"Yes, Dan'l, I remember."

"When I sailed away, last cruise but one, you kissed me, Faith. Do you mind?"

She looked at him in honest surprise.

"I kissed you, Dan'l?"

"Yes—on the forehead."

She shook her head.

"I don't remember at all."

"If he had been wholly wise he would have known that her not remembering was the end of him; but Dan'l in that moment was not even a little wise. He was playing for a big stake. Faith was never so lovely in his eyes, and there was desperation in him. He was blind with the heat of his own desire."

"You do remember," he cried. "You're pretending, Faith. You loved me then; and, Faith, you love me now!"

She shook her head.

"You do not know; you're not listening to your heart. I know more of your heart than you know, Faith."

"No, no, no, Dan'l," she said insistently.

He flamed at her in sudden fury.

"If it's not me," she said, "it's him that you—"

FIND MORPHINE

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Police here today were holding Mrs. Angeline Pastore, 34, of Philadelphia, Pa., for investigation in connection with the discovery of approximately $6000 worth of morphine in her rooms at a local hotel.

Both Mrs. Pastore and a companion, Charles Collins, 41, deny that the morphine belongs to them. Collins is also being detained by authorities.

CRITICALLY ILL

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 29.—All possible assistance was offered today to Senor Hipolito Irigoyen, deposed president of Argentina, by the new government. He was reported gravely ill aboard his floating prison in the River Plate. Three doctors summoned to the cruiser Belgrano were said to have found him in a state of coma and immediately advised the government that he probably would have to be taken ashore.

Mental Illnesses On The Increase Today

—Complexities of Modern Life Partly to Blame

Medical Profession Becoming Alarmed at Steady Growth in "Mind" Cases, Says Dr. Copeland, Discussing Care and Treatment of the Mentally Sick.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York.

Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

NO greater affliction can come to man than loss of reason. When mental control is lost, direction of the body and its acts is gone.

There is much alarm in the ranks of the medical profession today over the steady growth and complexity of mental diseases. The problem of the mentally defective is always a serious one.

The American Medical Association, at its recent meeting, took action to bring about a more scientific handling of these problems. To further scientific investigation it was thought desirable to appoint a special committee. This will concern itself solely with psychiatric services in the criminal courts and prisons. It will cooperate with hospitals and other organizations in the care and treatment of the mentally ill. And at the same time an effort will be made to promote greater progress in the treatment of mental defectives.

The efforts to deal justly and wisely with criminal offenders are often handicapped. They fail because some lawyers and judges do not have the same conception of the factors that lie behind an offense. Through a psychiatric service, if it is sensibly conducted, something more than mere penal treatment can be given offenders. A sharper line can be drawn between criminals and those suffering from mental disorders. By this service society will receive greater protection against this type of offenders.

The mental hygiene problems of today are exceedingly complex. Mental troubles are far more prevalent than ever before. Life is more complex than it used to be. Many persons have difficulty to adjust themselves to society, and to the requirements of living.

The health of the body and the health of the mind act and react on each other. If we are to be really happy our mental attitude must be healthy. Many physical disorders come from perverted ideas.

Very often there is no real health breakdown until there is a mental breakdown. Our understanding of the mind is very meager, but we must exert some control over our thinking. Happy is the man who is capable of directing his thinking wisely. The surest guarantee is a strong, normal body.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

ARTICLE XII, SECTION 2.

PROPOSING TO AMEND SECTION 9 OF ARTICLE XII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, IN REGARD TO THE DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME AND INHERITANCE TAXES.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, that all of the members elected to each house concurring therein:

That there shall be submitted to the electors of the state, for their approval or rejection, in the manner provided by law, at the election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1930, a proposed amendment to article XII of the constitution of the state of Ohio, to read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

Sec. 9. Not less than fifty per centum of the income and inheritance taxes that may be collected by the state shall be returned to the county, school district, city, village, or township in which said income and inheritance tax originates, or to any of the same, as may be provided by law.

Adopted April 6, 1929.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, STATE OF OHIO.

Office of the Secretary of State.

I, CLARENCE J. PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

ARTICLE XII, SECTION 9.

PROPOSING TO AMEND SECTION 9 OF ARTICLE XII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, IN REGARD TO THE DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME AND INHERITANCE TAXES.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein:

That there shall be submitted to the electors of the state, for their approval or rejection, in the manner provided by law, at the election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1930, a proposal to amend section 9 of article XII of the constitution of the state of Ohio, to read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

Sec. 9. Not less than fifty per centum of the income and inheritance taxes that may be collected by the state shall be returned to the county, school district, city, village, or township in which said income or inheritance tax originates, or to any of the units, as may be provided by law.

Adopted April 6, 1929.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

STATE OF OHIO.

Office of the Secretary of State.

I, CLARENCE J. BROWN, Secretary of State, of the State of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing is copied from and carefully compared by me with the original joint Resolution adopted by the 88th General Assembly of the State of Ohio on April 6th, 1929, and now on file in my office and in my official capacity as Secretary of State.

Resolution was filed in the office of the Secretary of State on April 10th, 1929, and proposed to amend section 9 of article XII of the constitution of the state of Ohio relating to the distribution of income and inheritance taxes.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name and annexed my official seal at Columbus, Ohio, this 18th day of September, A. D. 1930.

FAMOUS Doctor's Way to move the Bowels

Do your bowels fail you occasionally? Are you a chronic sufferer from constipation and its ills? Then you will be interested to know of this method which makes the bowels help themselves.

Dr. Caldwell specialized on bowel ills. He treated thousands for constipation. The prescription he wrote so many times—which has been tested by 47 years' practice—can be had of any drugstore today. Its pleasant taste and the way it acts have made it the world's largest selling laxative.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is a skillful compound of laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other mild ingredients. Nothing in it to harm even a baby. Children like its taste. It acts gently, without griping or discomfort. So it is ideal for women or older people. But even the most robust man will find its action thorough, satisfying. The quick, certain benefits millions are securing from Syrup Pepsin proves a doctor knows what is best for the bowels.

Next time you feel bilious, head-achy, bloated, gassy, or constipated take some Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and see how fine you feel the next day—and for days to come!

RESOLUTION PASSED BY WOMEN'S CLUB

The Business and Professional Women's Club, at a recent meeting, passed the following resolutions expressing sorrow at the death of the club's first president, Mrs. Ida M. Graham:

Sept. 27, 1930.
With profound sorrow the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Circleville, record the death of their first President, Mrs. Ida M. Graham.

In the organization of the Club, Mrs. Graham's interest and efforts were untiring. In accepting the responsibility of its leadership, her devotion to the duties of the office and her vision of the possibilities of club service carried us through a trying period to a definite place in the activities of the community.

In the heart of each member, memories of Mrs. Graham's friendship and personal interest will always be cherished. In her service both as an officer and a member, she gave to the organization much that will remain with us always and be a living and enduring tribute to her memory.

With the sense of our own loss is mingled deep sympathy for the members of her family.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that this expression of appreciation be sent to the family, to The Circleville Herald and be placed upon the minutes of this meeting.

Mary Howard,
Mary G. Morris

COP OUT-WITTED BY COLORED MAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The new dial telephones caught the eye of Dave Perry, negro, 28, when he was being led through Union Station handcuffed to a detective. He had been brought here from Charlotte, N. C., to face charges of burglary.

Perry studied the new type telephones for several moments and then asked permission to make a call. The detective consented but then they found two hands are needed to dial a number and hold the receiver.

The obliging detective removed the handcuffs—just as the prisoner had apparently figured, and he made a quick dash to freedom. Perry is accused of robbing the home of Senator Pittman (D) Nev. of Jewelry worth $5,000.

FAMOUS Doctor's Way to move the Bowels

Do your bowels fail you occasionally? Are you a chronic sufferer from constipation and its ills? Then you will be interested to know of this method which makes the bowels help themselves.

Dr. Caldwell specialized on bowel ills. He treated thousands for constipation. The prescription he wrote so many times—which has been tested by 47 years' practice—can be had of any druggist today. Its pleasant taste and the way it acts have made it the world's largest selling laxative.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is a skillful compound of laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other mild ingredients. Nothing in it to harm even a baby. Children like its taste. It acts gently, without griping or discomfort. So it is ideal for women or older people. But even the most robust man will find its action thorough, satisfying. The quick, certain benefits millions are securing from Syrup Pepsin proves a doctor knows what is best for the bowels.

Next time you feel bilious, head-achy, bloated, gassy, or constipated take some Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and see how fine you feel the next day—and for days to come!

RESOLUTION PASSED BY WOMEN'S CLUB

The Business and Professional Women's Club, at a recent meeting, passed the following resolutions expressing sorrow at the death of the club's first president, Mrs. Ida M. Graham:

Sept. 27, 1930.
With profound sorrow the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Circleville, record the death of their first president, Mrs. Ida M. Graham.

In the organization of the Club, Mrs. Graham's interest and efforts were untiring. In accepting the responsibility of its leadership, her devotion to the duties of the office and her vision of the possibilities of club service carried us through a trying period to a definite place in the activities of the community.

In the heart of each member, memories of Mrs. Graham's friendship and personal interest will always be cherished. In her service both as an officer and as a member, she gave to the organization much that will remain with us always and be a living and enduring tribute to her memory.

With the sense of our own loss is mingled deep sympathy for the members of her family.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that this expression of appreciation be sent to the family, to The Circleville Herald and be placed upon the minutes of this meeting.

Mary E. Wilder,
Mary Howard,
Mary G. Morris,
Committee on Resolutions Business & Professional Women's Club, Circleville, Ohio.
Dated this 12th day of September, A. D. 1930.
